

Selected Online Resources for Teaching with Berani

- Art and Action, Lesson 4: Encounters of Ideas, Time and Place: Textiles of Southeast Asia [Fowler Museum of Art, UCLA]
This lesson introduces the idea that works of art reflect cultural continuity and change; activities explore simple weaving techniques, patterning, and design options.
- Contemporary Wayang Archive [Singapore Ministry of Education]
Shows of traditional shadow puppet performances in Java with translations, notes, and explanations of how the performances were received in their original context.
- Every Day Mysteries [Library of Congress]
Discusses the largest and most stinky flowers in the world found in Indonesia!
- Indonesia: General Information [Southeast Asia Digital Library, U. of Northern Illinois]
Provides annotated links to maps, flags, language, religion, government institutions, travel, etc.
- Indonesia at Melbourne [U. of Melbourne]
Features top stories about current issues in Indonesia with images and podcasts.
- Indonesian Study [Fulbright-Hays Group Seminar to Indonesia, Appalachian State U.]
Has lesson plans on Indonesian art, religion, music, government, trade, etc. with PowerPoints, and quizzes; includes digital culture kits, and photo gallery approved for free classroom use.
- The Jakarta Post A daily English-language newspaper in Indonesia with some free articles.
- Orangutan [World Wildlife Fund Australia]
Has links to more resources including ones about sustainable palm oil.
- The Orangutan Project [Recommended by Michelle Kadarusman, author of Berani]
Comprehensive information on orangutans in general, threats they face, and how you can help.
- Teachable Indonesia: Grades K-8: A dozen ways to grab your students' attention! [Southeast Asian Center, U. of Washington]
Topics covered include languages, spices, folk tales, kodomo dragons, etc., plus images and links to additional resources to extend lessons.
- Wayang Lessons 1&2 [Center for Southeast Asian Studies, U. of Michigan]
Serves as an introduction to Javanese culture and ethics through an exploration of the character types found in the shadow puppet theatre and its scenery.
- Wonderful Indonesia [Ministry of Tourism, Republic of Indonesia]
Official website for planning a trip to Indonesia with gorgeous images.
- World Factbook: Indonesia [United States Government, Central Intelligence Agency]
Offers up-to-date statistics on energy, population, literacy, economy, natural resources, etc.